COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGERS' OFFICE

After the town voted to accept the airport the Maine Aeronautics Commission was contacted relative to what could be done in regard to the state participating in the future development of the airport. Last week two engineers representing the commission arrived by plane to look over the area. Measurements were taken so that a rough sketch could be made, which would be the basis of future planning.

They estimated that it would cost approximately $6000 to improve the airport to state specifications, which calls for a fifty-foot wide landing strip, with an outer seventy-five feet on each side on a safety strip. Total width would be two hundred feet, with about a 100 foot runway.

The matching fund basis is 50-50 when participating with state funds, which must be expended under state supervision.

There is a possibility that all the money that was expended by the Bethel Airport Corporation to develop the airport up to the present standard may be considered as part of the matching funds. If this can be done it will make several thousand dollars available from the state and will reduce the amount required by the town. However this is something that is to be worked out later.

As soon as a report of their inspection of the airport is received from the commission a trip will be made to Augusta to discuss plans for further development.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

SOIL BANK OPEN FOR "ELIGIBLE" LAND

Any farmer who has cropland which is regularly used for cultivated crops or tame hay is eligible to participate in the 1959 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank. Chairman William C. Chapman of the Oxford County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announces:

Using Conservation Reserve Regulations, the Chairman defined "eligible" and "ineligible" land for the program as follows:

Eligible land includes: (1) Any land from which a crop was harvested or which was in regular crop rotation in 1958, and (2) land from which tame hay was harvested for hay or silage in either 1957 or 1958. Tame hay is defined as "a stand of perennial grasses or legumes normally established for hay by land preparation and seeding."

Non-eligible land includes: (1) That planted to small fruits, vineyards, nursery stock, orchard or nut trees, and land between rows of these crops; (2) any land owned by the Federal Government or a corporation wholly owned by the Federal Government; and (3) land in noncrop open pasture range woods, or in the farmstead.

In Oxford County, Chairman Chapman said, the smallest amount of land that can be put in the Conservation Reserve is 5 acres. If the entire acreage to be put in the program is to be planted to forest trees, however, as little as 2 acres may be planted.

SHC Reports on County Road Work

The State Highway Commission expects to award two emergency "D" projects located in Oxford County in October.

In Rumford, plans call for widening a portion of U. S. Route 2 in the vicinity of Falls Hill. This will provide two ascending lanes, one for slow moving traffic and trucks, and one descending lane. The project will begin at the junction of Bridge and Prospect Streets and extend southerly for half a mile. A bituminous concrete pavement will be placed over the existing 20 foot cement concrete pavement plus another 20 feet to make a 40 foot roadway from curb to curb. Twenty feet of ledge will be excavated to provide the same width the length of the project. Other improvements include installing catch basins and storm sewers in order to provide an adequate drainage system.

The "D" project in Fryeburg will begin in the town 100 yards westerly of River Street and extend easterly along U. S. Route 302 for a distance of a mile and a half to a previously completed project, near Jokey Cap. The completed road will have a 24 foot bituminous pavement and 8 foot gravel shoulders, except for a thousand feet through the town where the shoulders will also be paved to provide a better wearing surface for parking spaces.

Two bridge projects were awarded by the SHC just last week located in Oxford County. In Roxbury, Frye Bridge, a connecting link between Routes 129 and 17 will be built over the Swift River. Plans call for a three span, steel and concrete structure 175 feet long with a 25 foot roadway.

In Peru, Greenwood Bridge will be constructed over the east branch of the Noisect River west of the existing structure. Plans call for a reinforced concrete slab 25 feet long with a 24 foot roadway on concrete abutments. Approximately 125 feet of the approaches will be improved.

Work is just getting underway on a combined highway and bridge project in Byron recently awarded to C. W. Qualey of Gray. The purpose of the new construction is to bypass a bad "S" curve on Route 17. The new cutoff will begin about two miles northwesterly of the Eyrson-Roxbury town line and extend a little over half a mile including a new bridge over the Swift River. Plans call for a three span, steel and concrete structure 125 feet overall with a 25 foot road and a Portland cement concrete wearing surface. The finished highway will have a 20 foot pavement and 4 foot gravel shoulders. Arthur Fowles is the resident engineer; and the estimated total cost of the project is $155,200.

A section of highway is being rebuilt along Route 168 beginning at the southern tip of Bretons Pond in Livermore and extending almost three miles to a point near the Knapp Road in Canton. Plans call for one major relocation starting at the town line of Hartford-Canton extending a little over a mile to the end of the project near Knapp Road. Frank Rossi of Gardiner is the contractor at an estimated total cost of $355,000. Herschel York, the resident engineer, estimates the work at present to be 20% complete.

There are two bridges now under construction in Oxford County which were awarded July 30th to Anthony J. Rosato of Rumford. Gibbs Bridge is being built over Surplus Stream in Andover North Surplus a little over seven miles west of Andover on East B Hill Road. It consists of a 22 foot structural plate arch on concrete abutments with an 18 foot bituminous treated traveled way and 4 foot gravel shoulders. Approaches are being built up and the new structure, which is about 50% complete is slightly upstream from the old location to improve the alignment. Rosato's low bid was $11,621.

In Greenwood, Morgan Brook Bridge No. 2 on Route 123 is being improved. The old wooden deck has been replaced with a concrete slab 44 feet long with a 22 foot roadway. The work is 95% complete. Rosato's low bid on this project was $39,000.

The project in Hallowell is 80% complete. The work began at a point 7 of a mile east of Newry. Corcoran and extends a little over 4 miles along U. S. Route 2 toward Rumford. Engineering plans call for a 24 foot bituminous concrete pavement and 8 foot shoulders and for a large percentage of the new road to be built on new location in order to provide better alignment. Frank Rossi of Gardiner is the contractor at an estimated total cost of $403,800. Robert S. Merrill is the resident engineer.

Construction in Hiram-Brownfield was finished this week on a project awarded W. H. Herman, Inc. of North Andover. Plans included considerable improvements to a two mile section of combined Route 5 and 113. The work started near Glapond River Bridge in East Brownfield and ran easterly into Hiram. The project required heavy grading including 50 foot cuts and fills. There were five relocations to correct the alignment as well as the construction of two railroad crossings and the improvement of a third. The resident engineer was Irving Maynard. The total estimated cost of the project was $400,000.

Terre Haute, Ind., Tribune Star: James R. Hoffa's proposal to weld the nation's land, sea and air transport unions into a solid alliance is not going to encounter smooth sailing. Some indication of the difficulties ahead was contained in a statement by Guy L. Brown, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Brown told the 70,000 members of the union that he opposed joining any such amalgamation of organized labor strength. His fear of the consequences was summed up in a sentence that merits wide-spread public attention: "I firmly believe that if this plan for organizing all the transport unions into one large group is adopted, the organization might become so powerful that it could result in the destruction of the nation."

Farm Journal: A few steps from our office these clouds in Washington square a monument to the unknown soldier dead of the American Revolution. We here who pass by daily often wish that you and all Americans might see, engraved deep in the stone behind a bronze statue of George Washington, these down words: "Freedom is a light for which many men have died in darkness."

Because Troop 8 met Tuesday with 10 present at the home of Mrs. Charles Merrill with the assistance of Mrs. Charles Merrill and Mrs. Gladys Cross. Due to the fact that Troop 8 is so large it was found necessary to divide the troop into two groups, one group under the leadership of Mrs. Merrill and the other group meeting with Mrs. Merrill and Mrs. Cross at the former's home.

It will be much easier to work with a smaller troop and therefore will be able to accomplish much more.

We were happy to find we have two new members who are Joan McGowan and Rita Morin.

After the business meeting a sausage bake and other games were enjoyed.

It is hoped that we will find a meeting place so that all of Troop 8 can meet together every six weeks.

Next week will be the 10th anniversary of the founding of the Troop and the following are the members:

The Fourth Grade Brownies held their first meeting at school Tuesday Sept. 29 at the home of Mrs. Edward Wheeler with Mrs. Robert Kilmbridge and Mrs. Henry Robertson assisting. There were 15 Brownies including two new ones. We were sorry to see several of the old ones absent. Refreshments were served by the leaders. The girls made their own fancy candles with cookie cutters and had punch. They played games and worked on paper mache decorations for Halloween. The meeting closed with the Good Night song.

Girls Scouts will meet at the Laconia Room Thursday Oct. 2 after school, for their first meeting.

MAN'S RECIPE

IMPROVED CRANBERRY MEAT LOAF

I am a minister's son and blessed with three sisters, all younger than I, thank goodness. It would be an impossible situation to be a minister's son and have three older sisters to guide, direct, and force one's feet along the right path.

As it was, I had a difficult time. All three sisters are splendid, able and articulate women, who comment forthrightly about a brother who took up cooking in his middle years. They spent most of their early years saying, "Haydn, keep out of the kitchen!" In these halcyon days of long ago, I was not interested in cooking, but in the results. A growing boy needed plenty of cookies and doughnuts, and an occasional piece of cake—if he could procure them under the eyes of watchful suspicious sisters.

However, the girls are a bit more respectful now, and when I give them a recipe such as this, they admit I am beginning a cook. This recipe should have been in Country House Cookbook.

Use two pounds of hamburger, two tablespoons light brown sugar, one and a half cups whole cranberry sauce, one half medium onion chopped fine, one half medium pepper chopped fine, two tablespoons salt, one half teaspoon parsley flakes, one half teaspoon thyme, one and a fourth cups bread crumbs, one cup cold water, about two tablespoons hot water.

Grease a hot pan, and spread the brown sugar. Spread the cranberry sauce over the brown sugar. Put bread crumbs in bowl with the cup of cold water and let stand a few minutes. Combine all other ingredients with the bread crumbs and mix all well. Put this mixture on the cranberry sauce.

Punch 10 holes in the loaf. Into

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Snyder (the former Gloria Sweet) who were married Saturday Sept. 20th, are living near Songo where he has employment.

Mrs. Daisy Kimball spent a few days last week with the Hugh Searns before leaving Sunday for North Carolina.

Mrs. Jennie Brown and grand-son, Paul, left Saturday for Boston to be with her daughter, Mrs. Louis Tanguay, and new baby girl. Walter and Norman Lapham and friends of Levittown, Pa., were visiting relatives here during the week-end.

William Bancroft is helping to pick apples for Fred Stearns. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Beaupre and Marie were in Berlin, Saturday.

Eric Stowe has returned to his home here. Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Sweeney were calling on the Howard Lapham's Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Jo Head spent Sunday with Lona Keniston.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dean and Mrs. Maud Kimball of Lovell were calling on relatives here Sunday. Byron Lapham has been unable to attend school this week due to illness. Norma Kimball was also absent Tuesday.

When not in use, guns should be kept unloaded and locked up. This helps prevent accidents, says the Maine Farm and Home Safety Council.

These holes put the two tablespoons of hot water. Bake at 350 for one and a half hours. Thicken the liquid for gravy. Turn the meat loaf out upside down. I hope you will try this and let me know what you think of it. It is my favorite meat loaf.

Apple Treat for NATIONAL APPLE WEEK October 9-18

Think of apples and you think of pie, plump with juicy slices, spicy, fragrant. This big apple pie is all of that plus several delicious surprises of its own. One, the juicy slices are canned apple slices (already peeled and sliced for you). Two, the slices are tossed every minute in a spicy sauce of cinnamon, apple slices. Three, the top crust consists of juicy apple shaped cookies, baked separately and set on just before serving. It all adds up to a novel, extra flavorful and handsome apple pie with which to celebrate National Apple Week. And it's so simple to make, too. Here's how:

PIE APPLE FUN FIE

Pasture for 2-crust pie
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon flour

1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 cup grated lemon rind
1 cup canned apple sauce
2 1/2 cups (1 can) apple slices, drained
1/2 cup butter

Melt out one-half of the butter and line 10" pie plate with melted butter. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Roll out remaining pastry 14" thick, and cut in apple shaped slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet.

Mix well the sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, flour, lemon juice and rind, butter and canned apple sauce. Pour over apple slices. Bake in hot oven, 350 degrees, 35 minutes. Remove from oven and let cool. When cool, place apple shaped pastry on top of pie. Serve with wedge of cheddar cheese.

TODAY'S Meditation

Thursday, October 2

Read Psalm 119:137-144
If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. (John 7:17)

LATE one night I walked alone on a narrow path through a gloomy forest and swampy land. In my hand I held a flashlight which lighted my way a few steps at a time. Without that light I might have run against trees or stepped in water. I might even have lost the way.

We all are wanderers along the path of life. Those who spend their lives without paying any attention to the Bible may be compared with a wanderer in the dark and having no light. Whosoever chooses God's Word for his guide goes his way in the light, for God is light.

The Bible teaches us to walk in the light.

God's Word guides us to knowledge of truth and righteousness. By reading the Bible frequently, the Word opens to us. It gives light and understanding to the simple-hearted, to those who have child-like faith.

PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee for Thy holy Word. Help us to find in it inspiration, strength, and light for the living of this day. Give us the taste for Thy Word, so that we may be able to acquire strength and light from it. Use us to spread the light of Thy Word to others; through Christ, Thy dear Son. Amen.

Thought For The Day
God makes our steps firm through His Word.

CITIZEN OFFICE

CHANGES IN YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

By John M. Deale (Manager of the Lewiston Social Security District Office)

In this second article about the 1958 social security amendments, I shall discuss two changes in the provisions that affect disabled workers. Both of these affect workers who previously could not have their social security records "frozen" who could not get disability payments at or after age 50.

One of them is a change in the work requirement. Under the old provisions, the individual must have met two tests: He must have worked under social security at least 5 out of the 10 years just before becoming disabled, and at least a year and a half out of the 5 years just before becoming disabled. We here in the Lewiston office have seen a number of applications denied because the second test wasn't met. Now, the second test has been removed, so that the only earnings requirement at present is the one requiring work for five years out of the ten before the disability prevented substantial gainful activity.

The second of these changes has to do with the time allowed for making applications. The previous requirements worked out so that a worker who had been disabled a long time had until June 30, 1958, to apply to have his social security record frozen; if he had been disabled a number of years and hadn't applied by then, he couldn't qualify. The change now gives such a worker until June 30, 1961 to make an effective application.

If you could not qualify under the social security provisions earlier because you did not meet the part of the work requirement now removed, or because you did not apply soon enough, you should contact your social security office immediately about filing an application. This is true if you have never made an application, or if you made one and were denied at any time before August 26, 1958, the date the amendments were signed by the President. Bring with you any papers you may have regarding any previous disability claim or injury. Our office, serving Androscoggin, Franklin, and Oxford Counties, is at 95 Park Street, Lewiston. If you're not able to visit the office, write to us or have someone get in touch with us for you.

In the next article, we shall take up the two other changes that concern the social security rights of disabled workers. It is worth noting here, however, that no change has been made in the requirements as to how severely disabled the worker must be.

There is never much trouble in any family where the children hope someday to resemble their parents.

THINGS ARE LOOKING UP for this little Miles, a post-polio patient at a Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation treatment and rehabilitation center. Thousands of boys, girls and adults, too, are leading normal, useful, happy lives after having received Kenny treatment for polio. The same Kenny treatment which helped Miles is being found beneficial in the treatment and rehabilitation of those with other neuromuscular disabilities. Kenny treatment and rehabilitation are made possible as result of generous public contributions to Kenny fund appeals.

The Kenny foundation provides the full Kenny Treatment, under medical supervision. Since Kenny medical and treatment techniques, used for polio cases, have proven beneficial in the treatment and rehabilitation for other crippling disorders, the Kenny foundation is continuing and expanding its services to include thousands of unfortunate victims of other neuromuscular diseases and disorders.

GOULD ACADEMY

Gould 12-South Paris 9

After dropping the opening game to Lisbon High, Gould Academy came right back to enter the win column with a 12-0 victory over South Paris High. It was the Cardinals' first loss in three starts, while the Huskies now have a 1-1 record. Every team in the West Maine Conference now has at least one defeat, which leaves the field wide open with any team a possible league winner.

The two teams battled on even terms for most of the first half until Doug Rice took a Paris punt on his own 30 yard line and eased 70 yards to score.

The losers made more first downs than the Academy eleven but were stopped cold every time they reached the 25 yard line. The final touchdown came late in the last period when Sumner plunged over from 2 yards out. Dallinger scored the extra point by carrying through center, which gave Gould its 12-0 victory.

Gould at Norway Saturday

With a 1-1 record in League competition Coach Bob Scott will take his grid squad to Norway Saturday for their third conference game in a row. Norway has won 2 and lost 1 this year, and the battle looks like a tough one. The newly-formed Western Maine Conference is really proving to be tough competition with any of its members capable of winning the crown.

The Huskies are still staying with their same line up of the past two weeks. The team showed vast improvement last week over its opening game performance.

Thinblade Meet Portland Tuesday

The Gould Academy Cross Country team will play host to Portland High next Tuesday. Coach Auger's charges looked good in their opener against Fryeburg Academy. The meet is scheduled for 2:30 in front of the Field House.

Gould Wins Cross Country Opener Gould had little trouble winning their opening meet as they took the first three places and fifth and sixth to overwhelm Fryeburg 17-45. Jeff Newsom was the winner, covering the 2.5 mile course in 14 minutes, 12 seconds.

Don Angevine, a strong runner from last year, did not compete because of a foot injury which needs rest. It is hoped that he will soon be ready for competition again.

Fryeburg's first runner was Chris Simonds, who finished fourth. Gould—Jeff Newsom 1, Ed Bernier 2, Bob Felt 3, Tim Carter 5, Fred Lincoln 6, (17), Rupert Grover 7, Stan Clark 9.

Fryeburg—Chris Simonds 4, Skip Watkins 6, Dick Hill 10, Steve Eastman 11, Jim Hadlock 12 (45).

Parents' Day Set for October 11th Gould Academy will play host to parents, relatives and friends of its students on October 11th on the campus. Activities to keep everyone busy are being planned by the many committees working to make this an extra special occasion.

These students are among 10,000 of the highest scorers on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, the nationwide test of educational development given in over 14,000 high schools in April. A second test will be given in December, and those who repeat their high scores will become finalists in the competition. As finalists the students will be eligible for about $5 million in scholarship awards sponsored by over 80 business and industrial organizations, professional societies, foundations, individuals, and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself.

In the final phase of competition high schools, extra curricular activities, school leadership and citizenship will be evaluated along with the test scores.

V. A. NEWS LETTER

An estimated 200,000 servicemen who have GI insurance policies under in-service waiver of premium payments might—in the event of death—cause their survivors to receive reduced benefits payments, says M. L. Stoddard, Manager, Veterans Administration Center,
Togus.

On the other hand, Stoddard adds, in some cases an in-service waiver might actually increase the VA benefits survivors would receive.

Stoddard says the generally higher death payments authorized last year by the Survivors Benefits Act do not apply to the survivors of those who died while their GI insurance policies are under in-service waiver of premium payments.

However, such survivors may be eligible for the old and generally lower amounts of death compensation payments.

"Generally higher" or "generally lower" do not mean "always," Stoddard cautions.

Several factors determine which is the greater benefit, Stoddard says. These include the service-man's number and kind of dependents, and his basic monthly pay.

Not affected by an in-service waiver is the payment of the GI policy proceeds to the designated beneficiary or beneficiaries, Stoddard points out.

Servicemen whose policies are still under in-service waiver should determine whether in event of death the waiver's existence would be in the best interests of their survivors. If not, they should cancel the waiver and resume full payment of premiums, Stoddard advises.

Complete information is available from personal affairs and insurance officers in the service, or at any VA office.

Q. Can a veteran who is going to school under the GI Bill also get a GI loan with which to build a house?

A. Yes, provided, of course, that your lender will make the loan.
Nothing in the law prohibits simultaneous receipt of the two benefits.

Kiss 'em goodbye, Mom...

but be sure you see them again!

Children home alone, the youngest ones especially, would be helpless to escape if fire should strike while you're away.

This tragedy happens every day and actually is the cause of one out of every three child fire deaths.

Never leave small children alone. Even if it is necessary to leave the house for only a few minutes ask a neighbor to stay with the children. And whenever you must go out for a longer time, leave the children in the care of a baby sitter who not only has been told what to do in case of fire but who is also physically and mentally capable of carrying out such instructions.

GEODETIC SURVEY TEAM TO WORK IN WHITE MOUNTAIN NATIONAL FOREST
A triangulation survey, which will determine and mark the geographic position of selected points throughout the White Mountain National Forest in northern New Hampshire, is now being made by a 25-man field party of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, Chief of Party, Lt. Cmdr. William E. Randall, estimated that if weather conditions permit the survey should be completed in three months.

The points marked during the survey will be for the use of the Forest Service and others in future mapping and surveying of the area. The small bronze discs, which mark the points, will be placed at 2 to 10 mile intervals along the highways and at principal airports and most towns.

The party of 25 (including wives and children) arrived at Gateway Trailer Park, in Gorham, N. H., Sept. 20. Its equipment includes 25 house trailers, 27 trucks, two office trailers and one supply van.

One day you may suddenly notice a slender steel tower silhouetted against the skyline, or at night the blinking of lights in Morse code may catch your eye.

These strange sights coupled with the busy movement of men and trucks may cause some of the local residents to stop and think. But don't worry, these sights, though unfamiliar to the area, are actually part of one of the oldest operations carried on by the Federal Government. That is to survey accurately all of the land area within our borders.

The geodetic work of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, a Bureau of the U. S. Department of Commerce, consists of several types of surveying operations, which require the highest degree of accuracy.

The resulting information is used as the basis of framework for maps, charts, local surveys, and for various engineering projects, both public and private.

This is the kind of surveying that takes into consideration the size and shape of the earth, with the calculation checked by fixed stars. The surveyor, who deals in changes in temperature

MOUNTAIN RANGERS 4-H
The Mountain Rangers met Wednesday, Sept. 24, to reorganize. This year's members include: Lucien Bernier, Cynthia Wight, Lucien Bernier, Wilfred Lavallee and Diane Williamson. Leader, Arline Bernier. Officers elected: President, Melville Bernier; Vice President, Diane Williamson; Secretary-Treasurer, Cynthia Wight; Reporter, Wilfred Lavallee; Color Bearer, Lucien Bernier. We discussed the projects we will take next year. We planned to clean the grounds around the Grange Hall for a community service.

The State Police point out that none of the 114 persons who were killed in Maine in highway crashes during the first eight months of 1958 expected to meet death in a motor vehicle accident. They remind us that "it can happen to any of us." The best way to avoid it is to drive according to the rules and to be alert and sober every moment we are behind the wheel.

When the observations are finished and the calculations completed, the steel towers vanish even quicker than they appeared. Then the day comes that even the house trailers, trucks and temporary office trailers are gone. In fact you may wonder if they actually were there at all. Every trace is gone except—if you look real close directly underneath where that slender steel tower was, you will see a small bronze disc imbedded in concrete. On it will be stamped "Triangulation Station U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, for information."

FALL FOLIAGE AT ITS BEST
Leaves on hardwood trees all across the state of Maine are showing gorgeous coloration. The peak of the fall foliage season will occur soon; but individual areas will vary. Trees will stand out in striking splendor well through this harvest time.

Exact dates of Indian summer are somewhat vague in the minds of New Englanders, yet everybody pictures warm sunny days, cool nights during this period. Flaming red trees, yellows that shimmer in the light, shades of orange, and those multicolored leaves that still retain a touch of green, stand out in such a striking array that one remembers them all winter long.

One Easterner, when asked what makes Maine distinctive, in this glorious time of year, replied: "I think it is the blue lakes that are visible in all directions when you stand on a height. Other New England states have the mountains, the hardwood sections and high coloration, but none has so many scenic spots, from which lakes, ponds and shining rivers are visible."

The vacationist and Maine resident alike can view the fall foliage in all sections of the state and draw inspiration from such unbelievable scenery. A hike to a mountain-top, a ride in a plane, allows one to look down rather than up at such beauty.

The big woods of Maine are glorified by the season. Hardwood ridges stand out, of course, but every town in the state has its avenues of colors and every highway is edged with beauty to stir the soul of man. All along the coast, too, mile after mile, the deep green spruce and fir, the white birches, are interlaced with the colors of oak, maple and beech.

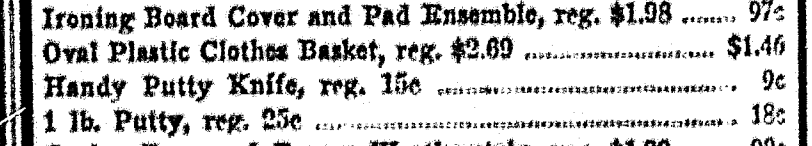

This is a wonderful time to be alive in Maine. The artistry of nature is never more sublime. No one should miss a single glorious day in the outdoors at this period.
